What is street photography?

Street photography is a genre of photography that highlights subjects in candid situations within community places and does not represent any particular street or urban environment.

Street photographers do not necessarily have a social purpose in mind, but they prefer to capture moments which would rather be unnoticed otherwise if not captured.

Some of the very famous street photographers whose works can be used as a great example are Vivian Maier, William Klein, Jill Freedman and many more.

What our client's say

Mark & Lucy

We wanted to get married in a special location because destination weddings are popular in our family, but it was really challenging for us to do it while juggling other several tasks. We didn't anticipate how much fun choosing our destination would be until we met XYZ.

Peter & Emma

We wanted to get married somewhere exotic, but we were unable to decide on a destination because of the How, When, and Where that kept racing through our minds. I stumbled across XYZ while looking through Instagram. It provided us with a variety of options and the ease of having everything sorted.
